The Way Of The Master

Synopsis

'The Way of the Master' is the flagship work of Ray Comfort and Kirk Cameron's organization. It anchors their television program, radio program, and website. Considered by many to be the definitive text in evangelism, this book is coming to Bridge-Logos to be updated, expanded, and illustrated with photographs for Spring 2006 release. It's an anecdotal, loaded with commentary and remarks that are more conversational than academic. It's an easy read with a hard message that has already changed the face of sharing faith.

This book had a very interesting approach. The main thrust of the authors was that every believer ought to be actively involved in witnessing to others through the testimony of the Law. This is the method employed by Jesus and the early believers. This is the way endorses and exemplified by the apostle Paul in the book of Romans. This is the only way. The authors encourage a variety of ways to use the Law as the tool for evangelism. It is appropriate in street preaching, university debates, on the golf course, at funerals, and everywhere in between. This method is to be employed on children, teens, adults and grandparents. One can address the issue with neighbors, friends, a spouse or complete strangers. It is the way. The "shock and awe" style of laying down the law is said to minimize false converts by truly explaining the gravity of sin as revealed in the 10 Commandments. Without these divinely given standards we would know nothing of our sinfulness, therefore they must be utilized or the chances of a surface conversion skyrocket. The authors believe that evangelism is the main goal of the local church and must be the main goal of the individual believer. Many believers in today's churches need to "catch on fire" and get out to confront people in their sin. If they do not do this they are considered "lukewarm" Christians as found in Revelations. The authors do a good job at explaining how one may use the Law in order to show others their sinfulness. Truly the law is our schoolmaster - the one who reveals to us our impending punishment from a holy God. One may use the Law by showing how we all have broken it, and therefore will one day stand before God to be condemned. It is a very effective way to show man's inability to "be good enough."

The Way of the Master by Ray Comfort focuses on what he believes is "an almost forgotten biblical key that has the power to unlock the door of the human heart." This "key" which Comfort is referring to is the Ten Commandments and its power to speak directly to ones "conscience (the place of the knowledge of right and wrong) - the way Jesus did." Comfort is the founder of The Way of the Master and Living Water Ministries, which include several publications for helping understand and carry out evangelism, a radio show, TV show and several short films in which he and his ministry partner, Kirk Cameron, are involved. This particular book is currently on the Bestseller list. My familiarity with Ray Comfort and The Way of the Master Ministries began about five years ago when my wife bought The Evidence Bible, another publication of this ministry designed to show the evidence of God and His creation. However, this book, The Way of the Master, is designed to show Christians the importance of evangelism and how the Ten Commandments are a key aspect of pointing the lost to understanding their true selves in order to reach them with the gospel. Several of the teachings found with this work can be also based on his sermon Hells Best Kept Secret, where Comfort points out the art of using God's Law in an effort to convict the sinner and bringing one to a true repentance and faith in Him. In an effort to bring about a better understanding of evangelism and to show the importance of how effective using the Ten Commandments is in evangelism. Comfort suggests the reader to reconsider the catch phrase "What would Jesus Do." He says, "The better question to ask is, 'What did Jesus do?' This confines our answers to the safe and reliable boundaries of the Bible..."
